The display of ladies' hats at L. B. Kerr's show rooms on Queen street is drawing a large crowd. The variety in shapes and fashions is unequalled in Honolulu. The prices bring the hats within the reach of all.

N. S. Sachs is going to have a new iron front put into his celebrated millinery and drygoods establishment. He holds only one clearance sale a year, but this will be unique in its opportunities for bargains. Ladies and gentlemen, now is your chance. THE INDEPENDENT vouches for it.

Court Notes.

Friday, Aug. 16th, is set for hearing and allowance of final accounts and discharge in Wong Ko's administration on Wong Kim's estate. He asks to be allowed $602.71 and charges himself with $1965.84. C. Wilcox brings suit against W. C. Achi on a promissory note for $250 dated in 1893. Decision is filed in the case of E. M. Orhead vs. David Dayton trustee, Daniel McCarriston and Hugh McCarriston. The plaintiff claimed the rents of the Criterion Saloon as included in the devise to her by will. Court decides against her. Decision in the matter of the Republic of Hawaii vs. Pahu larceny in the 3rd degree states that there was evidence enough to submit the case to a jury, and so the motions to discharge defendant and to grant a new trial were correctly refused. Decision in the case of Jas. R. Holt, Jr., vs. G. Lycurgus is that the court will not set aside the jury's verdict. Decision in the matter of admitting to auxiliary probate the will of Thomas Newell is that a holographic will probated abroad and presented here over 5 years after testator's decease will be admitted notwithstanding conflicting statutes. Judge Cooper is hearing matters in chambers to-day.

THE LEGISLATURE.

SENATE.

Senator Baldwin was granted leave of absence till Monday. President Dole requests that all bills before the Senate be forwarded to him. The secretary was instructed to attend to the matter.

The joint resolution pertaining to land tenure and the bill relating to Chinese Immigration were reported presented to the President for signature.

Senator Brown gave notice of a bill relating to storage of spirits and then absented himself. The bill relating to motions for new trials and practice of Circuit Courts was read the first time.

The Committee of Education reported on the new "School" Bill and recommended its passage with a small amendment.

The foot-binding law introduced by Senator Wilcox passed its second reading with a slight amendment. The bill prevents Chinese from using corsets on their girls' feet. It mentions nothing about "haoles" using them on their girls' waists.

The Senate received a communication from the House notifying it that the alcohol bill had passed.

On motion of Waterhouse discussion of bill 13 was postponed until Cecil Brown could be around.

The school bill was then before the Senate Attorney-General Smith stated that he did not understand the bill. Minister Damon admitted that he had read it ten times and that it was just as tangled to him as (the financial reports). Rice, Waterhouse and Wilder thought the bill ought to be sent to the Board of Education from whence it evidently emanated. There was a letter from the Board which fittingly could go with the bill. McCandless suggested that the editorial in last evening's INDEPENDENT be sent with the bill and Waterhouse wanted Bishop Willis' letter in the same direction. He thought the bill would probably not be heard of again in this session or in any other one.

The alcohol bill was read first time. McCandless wanted to know what the object of the bill was. It looked to him to be a measure to help the doctors.

The Attorney-General explained the object of the bill. Formerly the importation of alcohol had been too easy, and it had been used for the illicit manufacture of liquor. The object of this bill was to prevent a adulteration of spirituous liquor and at the same time protect the licensed druggists and physicians. A special Act was passed in 1892, allowing alcohol for the Bishop Museum. The same privilege should be extended to druggists who have been forced to charge their customers exceptionally high prices owing to the present high duty on alcohol. Under the proposed bill the druggists will be able to enter alcohol through the Custom House at $2.50 instead of $7.50. Sufficient safeguards had been made to check any abuse of the privileges of the bill. The bill was originally introduced at the instance of physicians and doctors, but the Government endorsed the provisions of this bill. The bill was referred to the Committee on Commerce.

On motion of Henry Waterhouse the Senate adjourned till Monday morning at 10 o'clock.
